About the Seminar

Every student is unique and has unique needs. These needs are related to instructions and support according to his age level, social background, physical and mental capacity and emotional behavior. This is of utmost importance that a school provides educational facilities keeping in view this diversity of needs. The concept of inclusion is based on the idea that every child is valued and deserves the equal opportunities and experiences besides all diversities. It is not confined to bringing of children with special needs to regular school. Inclusive education is purposeful endeavor to provide equal educational opportunities to those groups which in the past, have been excluded from having an access to education. These groups include children living in extreme poverty, those from ethnic and linguistic minority, girls, children from remote areas, and those with disabilities or other special educational needs. It is based on the principal that 'equal access to education is a matter of right not a privilege'. The seminar is an attempt to provide a platform to researchers, educationist, educators and administrators to discuss the issues and challenges of inclusive education and to find ways to overcome these issues and challenges. This is a venture to explore new ideas to setup and promote inclusive practices at all level of education.
