

विश्वविद्यालय वनस्पतिक उद्यान

UNIVERSITY BOTANIC GARDEN

- Established in 1962 with a view to develop it as a Plant Resource Centre for Teaching and Research.
- Member, Botanic Garden Conservation International (BGCI), Kew, U.K.
- Hosts a large number of Botanically and Medicinally important Indigenous and Exotic Rare Plants of different Eco-geographical regions of the Country.
- Shares major responsibilities for the Ex-situ and In-situ conservation activities of IUCN.
- Preserves the Germplasm of wild species of local flora.
- Links and organises education awareness campaign.

International Agenda for Botanic Gardens in Conservation

Dr H S Gour University Botanic Garden

Botanic Gardens participate in the worldwide and local efforts of the International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN) to conserve the world's plant diversity.

Prof. H. S. Gour
President, BGCI
Section 1, 2000, University of Jammu

